The Future Course of Terrorism

Brian Jenkins, RAND Senior Advisor

Thursday, March 26
2:00—3:30 pm

University of Maryland, College Park
Stamp Student Union, 2nd floor
Charles Carroll Room

RSVP required to infostart@start.umd.edu
More information at www.start.umd.edu

About the Speaker

Brian Jenkins is a senior advisor at the RAND Corporation, a non-profit research organization committed to improving policy and decision-making through research and analysis.

Before coming to RAND, Brian Jenkins held a number of positions, including:
- Captain in the U.S. Army Special Forces, member of the White House Commission on Aviation Safety and Security
- Advisor to the National Commission on Terrorism
- Special advisor to the International Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Jenkins’ recent publications include:
- Aviation Terrorism and Security (2005)
- Three Years After: Next Steps in the War on Terror (2005)