The U.S. Department of Homeland Security University Network request that you save Wednesday, March 14th, from 4:30-7:30pm for a special reception and showcase in B-338 Rayburn House Office Building.

The DHS University Network including the Centers of Excellence is eager to demonstrate the progress of the established centers, as well as to introduce the newly created programs to the Capitol Hill Community.

This reception features displays from each Center, including student projects— work from the next generation of homeland security professionals and scholars.

A formal invite can be expected in the near future!
